Rs. 7,074 being the total charges against income, the net receipts amounted to Rs. 3,08,782 or Rs. 1,198 less than the net receipts of the previous year. The expenditure under all heads amounted to Rs. 1,42,571 against Rs. 1,33,553 in 1882—83 and the balance to Rs. 1,66,210 against Rs. 1,76,427.

20. The number of births registered during the year under report was 2,292 or a ratio of 21·53 per 1,000 of population, while the deaths registered during the same period were 1,619 or a ratio of 17·31.

21. The Bowring Civil Hospital was as hitherto the only institution in the Civil and Military Station at which medical relief was granted gratuitously to the public throughout the year, but in the month of March a small Dispensary was opened at Alsur for the convenience of the people living in that suburb and in the adjacent villages.

22. The Municipal Commissioners have devoted considerable attention to the conservancy of the Station. A considerable advance has in fact been made, and with perseverance, it is to be expected, that the sanitation of the Station will soon be greatly improved.

23. Vaccination work among the civil population was entirely done by two Municipal Vaccinators, and on account of the prevalence of small-pox the employment of two additional temporary Vaccinators was sanctioned by the Board. The total number vaccinated during the year was 1,722 The successful cases were 1,250 or 78·17 per cent. The total cost of the establishment was Rs. 240.

24. The public schools in the Civil and Military Station aided by Government were as last year 66 in number, but the attendance of pupils has risen from 3,439 to 3,589 or at the rate of 1·36 per cent. The principal increase is in the roll of Primary Girls' schools and Secondary Boys' schools, and is confined to Natives. The Primary Boys' schools are the only ones which show a decrease. In aid of these schools a sum of Rs. 28,650 was paid during the year Of this Rs. 24,001 were devoted to English instruction and Rs 4,619 to the vernacular languages.

25. The works of special, scientific, historical or antiquarian interest published in the Station during the year were few, while the number of Presses was increased by the addition of one Muhammadan Press.

FORM OF ADMINISTRATION.

1. The form of administration of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, continued the same as in the previous year.

COURSE OF LEGISLATION.

2. As remarked in the previous report, all the Acts, Rules and Regulations which were in force before the Rendition were continued in force in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore after its assignment by a Notification of the Government of India. This was sufficient as a temporary arrangement, but a careful review and scrutiny of the Acts and Regulations was afterwards undertaken in order to adopt them to the altered circumstances of the place and to prevent doubt as to which are in force. Accordingly in Notifications dated respectively the 1st March and 7th August 1883, and 27th February 1884, the Government of India formally declared that the Acts therein mentioned apply to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore to the extent and subject to the modifications therein specified. A complete list of the Acts thus formally declared to apply since the Rendition will be found in the Appendix to this Report under II-Statistics of Protection, A-Legislative.

3. The formal declaration regarding the Rules and Regulations having the force of law, is still under consideration.

POLICE.

4. The only change in the strength of the force was the addition under the Resident's temporary sanction of 17 constables, 7 for service on the Madras Railway Line in Mysore, and 10 to guard the Ulsur tank. Permanent sanction has since been received for the additional men required for the Railway. The increase to the Police for the tank was only intended to be temporary and will be reduced in the present year. It was thought urgent for sanitary reasons to put a stop to the custom of bathing and washing clothes in this tank, and a guard of Police seemed required to break the practice as it was inveterate.

5. The number of Police to population appears to be one to 290 which ought to be ample, as they have no jails or treasuries to guard: the proportion of Police engaged in office work is not large, but might perhaps be a little reduced. There is nothing remarkable in the returns of punishments, and the discipline of the force appears to have been sufficiently good. A large majority of the constables is returned as educated: the Resident is glad to observe that almost all the newly enlisted men can read and write and that forty-three men went through the course of instruction in the Police school during the year.

6. The total cost of the Police was Rs. 61,509 or Rs. 356 less than in the previous year. Of this, a sum of Rs. 6,811 was the Municipality's share of the Police expenditure from 1st January to 31st March 1883, from which latter date the whole cost of the force is met from Imperial revenues.

7. The returns again show a marked decrease in number of offences: the figures of cognizable and non-cognizable cases dealt with by Police were 1,060 against 1,412 in the previous year; and there seems to be no reason to think that they are deceptive. There has been no destitution, and Mr. Hewetson is probably right in attributing much of the improvement to the standing and special beats instituted and to the close watch which the Police endeavour to keep on old offenders and known bad characters. It is most important that people of these classes should be well known and watched: the fact that 32 of them were sent to jail in the year is some evidence that the Police are not neglecting this part of their duty, but the District Superintendent should pay constant attention to the point as the Police in India are apt to be apathetic about it.

8. Of the 1,054 cognizable cases, 936 were put up before the Magistrates and accepted as true, and in 96 per cent. of these, convictions were secured. The percentages of convictions to persons arrested and to persons put on trial were also very high, being 93 and 95 per cent. These figures compare very favorably with the proportion of convictions to arrests in other places and are therefore creditable to the discretion of the Police. Of the 1,054 offences dealt with, 727 consisted of charges of public or local nuisances: these cases were much more numerous in the preceding years, and Mr. Hewetson appears to be right in believing that most permanent residents are now beginning to see that it is prudent to obey the Regulations. Mr. Lyall concurs in the opinion expressed that latrines and urinals are still fewer than they ought to be, and that when this want is fully supplied, there will be a great further decrease in this class of cases. Among offences under the Indian Penal Code, cases of house-breaking or house-trespass with intent and of ordinary theft make up about five-sixths of the whole. It is satisfactory to observe that of the persons arrested for ordinary theft, 93 per cent were convicted. The amount of property stolen is valued at Rs. 4,163, of which articles to the value of Rs. 1,429 were recovered: this is not a large recovery, but more than a fourth of the property stolen was taken in the last month of the year, and part of this may have been recovered subsequently.

9. The returns show fewer cases of grave crime, but there were two cases of murder in the year: in one a husband was convicted of the murder of his wife: the other was the notorious Seppings' Road case in which an East Indian woman of bad character was murdered in a particularly horrible manner. The Police have entirely failed to detect the perpetrators of this crime, and the offer of a reward of Rs. 1,000 failed to elicit any information. Some Native detectives from another Province were also employed to make a secret and independent inquiry, but without result. The best Police sometimes fail in detection of such cases, and it is difficult to say whether in this case the failure was due to want of ability, or to the accidental absence of all evidence and the discretion of the criminals. The inquiry however commenced badly; for more than twelve hours the death was supposed to be due to natural causes, and when the post mortem disclosed the murder, the facts were at once made public, and the sensation was so great that the Native inhabitants of the neighbourhood were afraid of speaking: in this way evidence which might have put the Police on the track may possibly have been lost.

10. The arrest and conviction of the offender in the case of robbery after administration of stupefying drugs was creditable to the Police.

11. The report seems to prove that the Police are improving in efficiency, but the statistics of offences against property corroborate the opinion commonly expressed that there are a number of habitual thieves in the Station, whom the Police are not yet able to control satisfactorily. One man of bad character was imprisoned in the year in default of finding security: there are probably many others from whom security for good behaviour might properly be demanded.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE.

12. The number of Courts remained the same as in last year. The receipts derived from court fees, fines, and forfeitures amounted to Rs. 3,989-9-0, as against Rs. 5,556—10—2 in 1882, giving a deficit of Rs. 1,567—1—2. The cost of the Courts was Rs. 15,514—0—3 or Rs. 11,521—7—3 in excess of receipts. The number of offences reported was 2,008, as compared with 1,983 in 1882, the percentage of increase being 1·26. The increase principally occurred in offences under criminal force and assault. Three hundred and forty-nine complaints were rejected without issue of process under Section 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The number of offences returned as true was 1,638, as against 1,953 in 1882.

13. The annexed statement compares the classification of offences brought to trial in 1882 and 1883 :—

	Against the State, the Public and Justice.	Against the Person.	Against Property.	Other Offences under the Penal Code.	Offences under Special or Local Laws.
1	2	3	4	5	6
1882	20	521	211	46	1,133
1883	15	463	193	62	917

14. There was a decrease in the number of offences under all classes, except in the offences entered in column 5.

15. Five cases affecting five persons were brought to trial for giving false evidence, as against 4 cases and 5 persons in the previous year.

16. There was one case of murder committed during the year in which the accused was convicted. Four other cases of offences affecting life as detailed below were tried in the District Magistrate's Court in which the accused was convicted.

17. A cartman was charged with the offence of causing the death of a child while he was negligently driving his single bullock cart in a crowded street. He was convicted under Section 304 A, and sentenced to 3 months' rigorous imprisonment. Two females in two cases were convicted and sentenced to simple imprisonments for attempting to commit suicide by drowning. In the 4th case, the prisoner was charged with attempting to commit suicide by strangulation while he was in a drunken state. He was found running along the street dragging with him a rope round his throat and fell on the ground from the effects of strangulation. He was convicted and sentenced to fine.

18. The number of cases of hurt tried was 12. Of these, two were for grievous hurt. In these 12 cases, 16 persons were concerned, of whom 13 were convicted and 3 acquitted or discharged.

19 The number of cases of theft was 133. Of the persons concerned, 143 were convicted and 7 acquitted or discharged. The number of persons pending at the close of the year was 7.

20. Nine hundred and seventeen cases under Special and Local Laws were brought before the Magistrates. The number of persons concerned was 1,380. Of these, 134 were acquitted or discharged and 1,228 convicted.

21. The following statement exhibits the cases in which proceedings of a miscellaneous nature under the Criminal Procedure Code were held in 1882 and 1883:—

Nature of Proceedings.	1882.				1883.
	Cases.	Persons	Discharged	Convicted.	Cases.	Persons.	Discharged	Convicted.

22. There was an increase of 49 cases for maintenance. Of the 91 persons concerned in the cases disposed of, 41 were discharged and 50 convicted. The compensation awarded in cases of a frivolous or vexatious nature amounted to Rs. 59—2—0.

23. The number of cases brought to trial, including 12 cases pending at the close of the year, was 1,650. Of these, 1,580 were disposed of; 859 by the 2nd Magistrate, and 721 by the District Magistrate. The total number of persons involved in these cases was 2,526. They were dealt with in the following manner:—

	In the District Magistrate's Court.		In the 2nd Magistrate's Court.
	Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.

24. There were 52 persons pending trial at the end of the year, 12 in the Court of the 2nd Magistrate, and 40 in the District Magistrate's Court.

25. The average duration of pendency of each case was 1 day in the Court of the 2nd Magistrate, and 1·01 days in that of the District Magistrate.

26. Twenty-five cases affecting 25 persons were brought before the District Magistrate as Justice of the Peace. Of these, two cases were struck off for default, and one committed to the Madras High Court for trial. The remaining 22 cases were disposed of as under:—

	1882.		1883.
	Cases.	Persons.	Cases.	Persons.
Acquitted	4	7	3	3
Convicted	11	13	19	19
Total.....	15	20	22	22

27. Eight persons were fined in sums not exceeding Rs. 100, and eleven were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from one to two months.

28. Three thousand, four hundred and six witnesses were examined in the Magistrates' Courts. Of these, 3,171 were discharged on the first day, 214 on the 2nd day, 17 on the 3rd day, and only one witness was detained for four days. The sum paid in the District Magistrate's Court towards expenses of witnesses was Rs. 15.

29. Twelve cases as against 14 in 1882 were brought for trial before the Court of Sessions. In one case the prosecution was withdrawn. Of the 15 persons concerned 4 were acquitted or discharged, and 11 were convicted. The average duration rose from 9·35 days to 14·5 days. In 10 cases the Judge agreed with the finding of assessors, and in one case he differed from one assessor. The number of witnesses examined was 94. None of them were detained beyond two days.

30. One thousand, six hundred and eighty-eight persons were punished. The annexed statement exhibits in detail the sentences passed on convicted persons in 1882 and 1883 :—

Imprisonment in default of security for good behaviour ...	...	...	1	·05

31. No sentence of death was passed during the year, but one person was punished with transportation for life.

32. There was a decrease in the number of persons imprisoned during the year. Of the 172 persons sentenced to imprisonment, 86 persons were imprisoned for 15 days and under, 63 persons for 6 months and under, and 23 persons to terms of imprisonment varying from above 6 months to 7 years. One thousand, four hundred and twenty-four persons were fined, and the amount imposed was Rs. 3,006—1—9. The sum realized amounted to Rs. 2,415—15—2.

33. The details of whipping were as follows. Of 86 persons whipped eight were awarded 10 stripes and under, 44 received 20 stripes and under, and the remaining persons were sentenced to 30 stripes and under.

34. The number of appeals to the Sessions Court decreased from 12 to 3 during the year; the sentences or orders appealed against were not disturbed by the Sessions Judge. The average duration was 2·66 days for each appeal. Five appeals as against eight in the preceding year were preferred to the Chief Court from the convictions and sentences passed by the Court of Sessions. The number of appellants concerned was 7. They were disposed of as shown below :—

Sentences were confirmed in cases of 4 persons.
Do reduced ,, 1 person.
Do reversed ,, 2 persons

35. Two cases were sent up by the District Magistrate for revision, 4 cases were called for on perusal of calendars, and six petitions were received from parties. The number of persons concerned was 14, and the manner in which they were dealt with is shown below :—

Number of persons in whose cases convictions were confirmed .. 5
Number of persons in whose cases convictions were reversed .. 3
Number of persons in whose cases further enquiry was ordered . 5

49. Fourteen applications were presented to sue in formâ pauperis. Of these, 5 were granted, 7 rejected and 2 were pending at the close of the year.

50. The number of witnesses who attended the Court was 2,235. Of these 2,082 were detained for one day, 132 for 2 days, and 22 for 3 days. The number of witnesses examined last year was 1,640. The increase was 595 which was due to the larger number of suits disposed of in 1883

51. The total number of miscellaneous cases for disposal was 162. There was a slight decrease of 5 cases as compared with 167 cases in 1882. They were disposed of as follows:—

		1882.	1883.

52. Exclusive of cases under the Code of Civil Procedure, there were 11 cases under Act XXVII of 1860, 7 applications for probates and letters of administration, and 1 application under the Minors' Rules. There were pending 9 cases for disposal. The average duration for contested cases was 31·89, and for uncontested cases 2·08.

53. There were for disposal 1 351 applications for execution of decrees including 114 pending from last year, as against 1,981 in 1882. The results of applications for execution of decrees are given below :—

	1882.		1883.

54. Of the 559 wholly infructuous applications 6 were rejected for being barred by limitation, 248 were struck off for default, &c., 76 were either withdrawn or settled out of Court, and 229 were applications in which the judgment-debtors or their property could not be discovered. There were 110 applications pending for disposal at the close of the year. Rs. 21,654—7—0 were paid in after issue of process, and Rs. 9,327 were paid voluntarily into Court.

REGISTRATION

60. The Report and the Inspector General's Review on the working of the Registration Department show that 1,287 documents were registered during the year against 1,193 in the year previous, giving an increase of 94 documents or about 7 per cent. In the following table the progress of the Department is exhibited since 1881—82 :-

	1881—82	1882—83	1883—84

Grand Total.....	1,141	1,193	1,287

61. Under the head of documents affecting immovable property an increase is apparent both in the compulsory and optional classes; but the number of registration of those relating to movable property such as bonds, &c., shows a small decrease.

62. The aggregate value of the immovable property transferred by registered documents during the year was Rs. 9,20,461 against Rs. 8,83,498, and that of movables Rs. 74,755 against Rs. 39,145 in the previous year. The percentage of fees on the value of immovable property was Rs. 0—7—0 against Rs. 0—6—11; and on movable property Rs. 0—3—10 against Rs. 0—6—10 in 1882—83. The increase in the value of movables is due to the registration of two documents of exceptionally large value, viz. a release for Rs. 24,599, and the other, a deed of transfer of contract on the value of Rs. 12,000.

63. The financial results are given in the margin. The percentage of expenditure to income was 32·14 against 29·49 in the previous year. The increase is due to the charge of house-rent at Rs. 20 per mensem for the portion of the building occupied by the Sub-Registry Office.

64. The Sub-Registrar's Office was inspected by the Registrar and found in good order.

77. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,43,664 showing a balance of Rs. 29,047 at the close of the year. The expenditure was more than that of the preceding year by Rs. 6,614 as will be seen from the appended statement :—

	Net Increase.....	..	...	6,614	...

78. The first large item of increase in the above statement is "Hospital Charges." This does not really represent an increase in expenditure as under the arrangement by which the hospital was made over to the Municipality, the Board was relieved of the contribution formerly made by the Municipality to meet one-third of the cost of the Police. The increase under "Conservancy" was due to the improved system of conservancy introduced into the Station, and to the larger establishment entertained for this purpose. The increase under "Other Miscellaneous Items" was due to an increase in the printing and advertisement charges and to other minor expenditure. The increased expenditure under "Reserve" is due to certain miscellaneous works which were not thought of at the time the budget was prepared. These works during the year under report consisted of (1) flushing the drains in the principal roads and streets in the Station during the hot weather; (2) deepening the bed of the Shule tank; (3) cleaning the feeders to the Miller's tank; (4) constructing to cinerators; (5) building octroi posts, and so on. The items of decrease do not call for any remark.

79. The octroi duty is levied on tobacco, betel-leaves and dry and green cocoanuts brought within the limits of the Municipality for local consumption. The same duty is also collected in the adjoining Municipality of the Pettah or old Native town of Bangalore. By an arrangement which was in force before the Rendition and which has since been continued with the mutual consent of the Resident and the Mysore Durbar, the whole of the octroi revenue for both Municipalities is collected and the charges paid by the Civil and Military Station Municipality and one-third of the receipts is made over to the Municipality of the Native town of Bangalore which is at the same time charged with one-third of the cost. The duty is not levied on the above named articles if they are simply in transit through the town. Such articles are taken to the warehouse where a pass is given and they are then sent beyond municipal limits in the charge of the octroi peons. The following statement shows the quantity of the articles imported into both Municipalities and the amount of duty levied by the octroi establishment during the year under report.

80. Taking into account the receipts from the octroi (Rs. 47,285), from the tax on houses (Rs. 34,617) and from the tax on professions and trades (Rs. 579), the total amount collected as municipal taxes during the year amounted to Rs. 82,481 and the incidence per head of the population was Rs. 0-14-1.

81. Under the head of public works much useful work was done during the year. New roads were opened at a cost of Rs. 5,295, and old ones repaired at a cost of Rs. 17,016. Box and V section drains, 2,067 running feet in length, were constructed at a cost of Rs. 3,105.

82. A few buildings consisting of a cattle pound at Alsur, a poudrette depôt, houses for two Conservancy Overseers and a latrine near the Railway Station were constructed at a cost of Rs. 3,737, and a well 40 feet deep was sunk at a cost of Rs. 573 for the use of the residents of Richmond Town. All the existing buildings were kept in good repair, and the suburban roads (that is, Government roads which pass through the Station), for the up-keep of which a contribution of Rs. 5,025 per annum is made to the Municipality by the Government, were properly maintained.

83. Much attention has been paid of late to sanitation and to the conservancy of houses and streets in the Station. The increase lately sanctioned to the staff of Sanitary Inspectors and Overseers has led to better supervision of the working of the Department, and the provisions of the Municipal Regulations for the daily conservancy of latrines attached to houses are effectually enforced.

84. The number of lamps under lighting during the year was 496 or 44 more than in the previous year.

85. Towards the close of the official year under report small-pox was prevalent in the Station and 125 deaths occurred from this cause. For the reception and treatment of small-pox cases two contagious disease camps were opened, and the medical staff and medicines required were supplied from the Bowring Civil Hospital under the direction of the Residency Surgeon.

86. The number of persons vaccinated was 1,722 against 1,333 in the previous year. In 1,349 cases the operation was successful.

MILITARY.

87. The garrison at Bangalore was increased during the year by the arrival from Dorundah on the 12th December, of the 14th Regiment, Native Infantry; with this exception the garrison consisted of the same troops as last year. The number of combatant officers and men, European and Native, was 5,626 at the end of the year.

88. The number of members of the Bangalore Rifle Volunteers for whom capitation was drawn show a slight increase: the number being 315 of all ranks against 307 in the previous year; but the enrolled strength of the Corps fell from 570 members to 447. This decrease was in the number of non-efficients.

89. During the month of January a large Camp of Exercise was formed at Krishnarajpuram near Bangalore. The force consisted of 5 Batteries of Artillery, 1 Regiment of European Cavalry, 3 Regiments of Native Cavalry (which included a Regiment of the Mysore Siledar Horse,) 5 Battalions of European Infantry, (which included a Battalion of Volunteers, composed of members of the Madras, Bangalore and Nilgiri Volunteer Corps), and 9 Regiments of Native Infantry. The total strength of the force was about 10,000 men.

IV. PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

AGRICULTURE.

90. The area of arable land within the limits of the Civil and Military Station is very small, and great part of it is occupied by market gardens and the enclosures of dwelling houses. It has not therefore been thought worthwhile to give statistics of its cultivation. The land revenue amounted to Rs. 3,664 against Rs. 3,695 in the previous year.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

91. The following table shows the mean temperature, humidity per cent and rain-fall of each month during the year :—

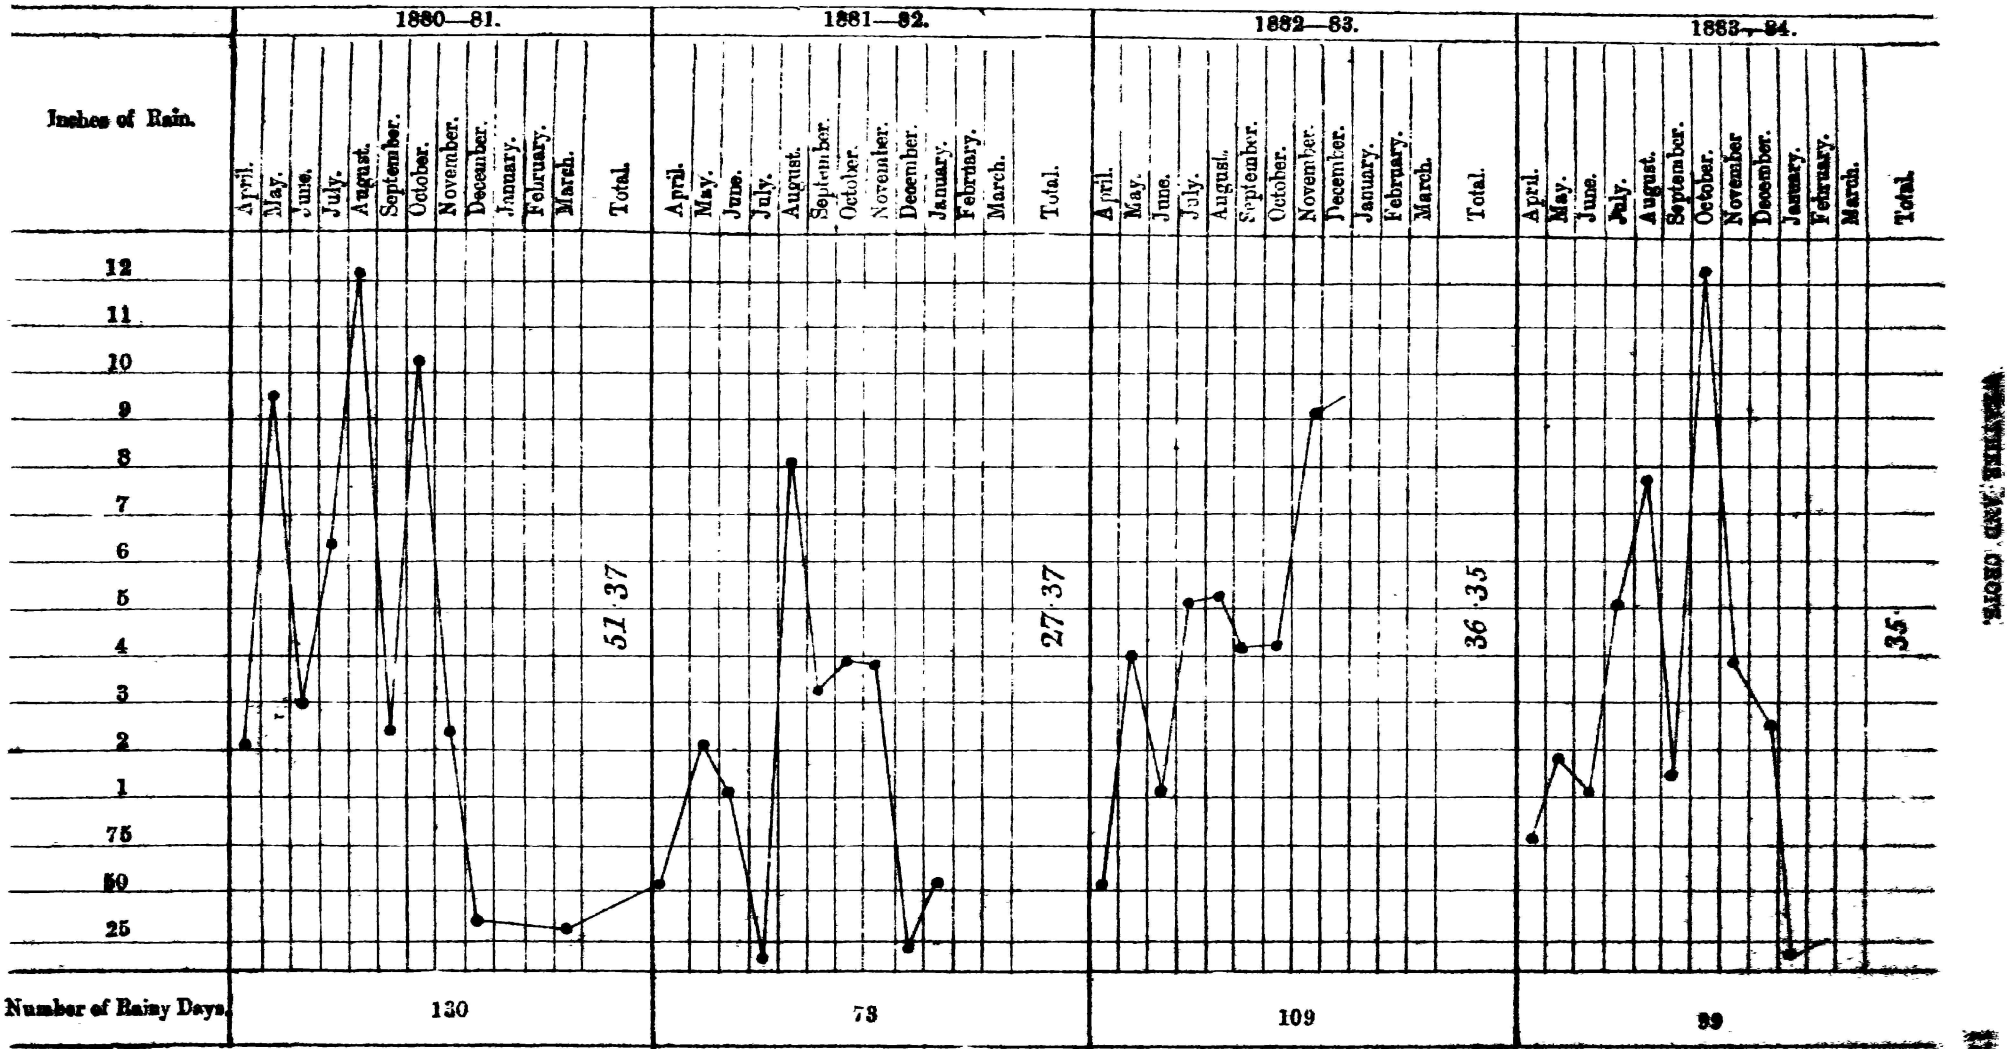
Months.	Mean temperature.	Humidity per cent.	Rain-fall.
			Inches.	Cents.
April 1883	80·3	49	...	72
May	79·3	60	1	81
June	74·7	70	...	80
July	71·2	80	5	28
August	72·5	76	7	66
September	72·4	70	1	05
October	70·7	79	12	56
November	67·4	71	2	86
December	64·4	67	2	01
January 1884	64·5	62	...	20
February	70·2	51	...	...
March	76·1	41	...	05
Mean.....	72·0	65	35	...

92. The mean temperature was 72·0 against 72·5 and the humidity was 65 per cent against 68 during the previous year.

93. The total amount of rain gauged at the Bowring Civil Hospital was 35 inches against 36·35 during the previous year. Rain fell on 99 days against 109 during the previous year. The heaviest rain-fall was in October and was due to the north-east monsoon. The rain was pretty equally distributed between the south-west and north-east monsoons, there being 17·32 in the former and 17·68 in the latter.

94. The season was on the whole good and very beneficial to the crops, the yield of which was a little above the average. Grains of all kinds were cheap and plentiful, and the public health was good.

95. The following chart will show the rain-fall for the past four years:—



96. Between the fall in August and that in October there was a long break with very little rain, and considerable anxiety prevailed lest the crops should dry up. In other respects the fall was seasonable enough, and the heavy fall in October was good for filling the tanks.

MANUFACTURE.

97. No returns are received from which statistics of the numbers and produce of the manufacturing industries of the Civil and Military Station can be given. The industries in question are not numerous or important. There has been no change requiring notice in the year under report.

TRADE.

98. It was remarked in last year's report that the Municipality could without difficulty obtain and furnish certain trade statistics. The President has been again asked to suggest to the Board the advisability of obtaining from the Railway books and through the Octroi Clerks statistics of the chief articles of the local trade.

V. REVENUE AND FINANCE.

IMPERIAL.

99. The receipts at the Resident's Treasury under all heads amounted to Rs. 61,90,330 during the year against Rs. 62,66,690 received in the previous year. The disbursements amounted to Rs. 61,18,676 in 1883—84 against Rs. 67,95,054 in 1882—83. There was thus a surplus of Rs. 3,71,654 in 1883—84, which, added to the opening balances of Rs. 2,24,131 on the 1st April 1883, raised the closing balances of the 31st March 1884 to Rs. 5,95,785. In the previous year the disbursements exceeded the receipts by Rs. 5,28,364.

100. The revenue under the Imperial section as incorporated in the books of the Madras Civil Account office amounted to Rs. 27,81,279 in 1883—84 against Rs. 28,27,774 in 1882—83 as detailed below :—

	1883—84.	1882—83.
Subsidy from the Mysore State ..	Rs. 24,50,000	24,50,000
Interest on the loan of 80 lakhs granted to that State	3,16,800	3,20,000
Contributions from officers and establishment on account of pensions	3,589	32,092
Fees for the Uncovenanted Civil Service Examinations	2,631	2,359
Other miscellaneous receipts	8,259	23,323
	27,81,279	28,27,774

101. The decrease is for the most part due to the transfer to the books of the government of India, from the local books, of the pensionary contribution of officers lent to the Mysore State.

102. The Imperial expenditure audited and brought to account in the books of the Madras Civil Account office is as follows as compared with that of the previous year :—

	1883—84.	1882—83.
Salary of Resident, Assistant Resident and Surgeon	Rs. 69,398	72,301
Establishment	20,375	20,973
Travelling Allowances and Contingencies ..	9,105	17,099
Ecclesiastical charges	55,239	50,016
Political Pensions	12,815	14,586
Civil Pensions	61,608	49,765
Allowances to officers of other Districts on leave at Bangalore	5,152	10,636
Sundry other charges	16,323	8,824
	2,50,015	2,44,200

103. The increase of expenditure over that of the previous year under civil pensions is due to the large pensionary grants in arrears to Mr. Hudson, late Comptroller, Mysore, and that under sundry other charges to larger charges in connection with General Dandshah of Afghanistan.

104. The following sums were received into, or issued from, the Resident's Treasury on account of the Military, Public Works, Postal and Telegraph Departments. These receipts and charges are not however audited and brought to account in the Civil books :—

	Receipts.	Disbursements.
Military Department	Rs. 1,57,981	33,42,121
Public Works Department	51,694	1,75,164
Postal Department	1,66,004	1,72,079
Telegraph Department	32,245	54,714
	Rs. 4,07,924	Rs. 3,74,4078

105. In the previous year the total receipts and disbursements on these accounts were Rs. 6,08,782 and Rs. 35,65,703 respectively. The largest variation occurred in the transactions of the Military Department, the receipts falling by Rs. 88,959 and the disbursements rising by Rs. 3,63,940.

106. The remaining transactions, viz. those under the debt and remittance accounts, were as follows —

Receipts ..	1883—84	Rs. 33,01,127
	1882—83	28,30,134
	More in 1883—84. ..	.. 4,17,993
Disbursements ..	1883—84	.. 21,24,583
	1882—83	29,85,151
	Less in 1883—84.	8,60,568

107. The largest item under this head is specie and note remittances. The Bangalore Treasury received remittances from other Treasuries during 1883—84 to the extent of Rs. 21,36,700 and remitted elsewhere at other seasons of the same year Rs. 16,17,182.

LOCAL.

108. The gross revenue of the Civil and Military Station for the year 1883—84 amounted to Rs. 3,15,856 against Rs. 3,15,615 in 1882—83. After deducting Rs. 7,074, being the total charges against income, the net receipts amounted to Rs. 3,08,782 or Rs. 1,198 less than the net receipts of the previous year. The expenditure under all heads amounted to Rs. 1,42,571 against Rs. 1,33,553 in 1882—83, and the balance to Rs. 1,66,210 against Rs. 1,76,427. Details of the several items and sources of revenue &c., will be found in the statements of Finance appended to this report.

VI. VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL SERVICES.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

109. The number of births registered during the year under report was 2,292 (1,202 males and 1,090 females) against 2,405 (1,232 males and 1,173 females) in 1882—83, or a ratio of 24·53 per 1,000 of population against 25·71 the previous year. The proportion of male children to female is 110·27 to 100 against 105·03 during the previous year. Births exceeded deaths by a ratio of 7·22 per 1,000 of, population. The excess was 10·04 in 1882—83. The registration of births and deaths being under proper supervision, these figures may be accepted as correct. The deaths registered during the past year were 1,619 (820 males, 799 females) which gives a ratio of 17·31 per 1,000 of population, against 1,466 deaths (males 697, females 769) and a ratio of 15·67 per 1,000 of population last year.

110. The mortality among males exceeded that of females, the reverse was the case in the previous year. The highest mortality was in May as last year, and the lowest in December. The largest number of deaths was among children under 1 year, there being 283 deaths among males and 245 among females of that age, and the lowest between 6 and 12, the figures being 30 males and 16 females. According to classes, the highest mortality occurred among Hindus as in the previous year, showing a death rate of 18·34 per 1,000 of population. Next to these come "Other Classes" with a death rate of 17·38 per mille. The Muhammadans show a death rate of 14·45. Under the head of "Other Classes" are included as in last year's report, Europeans, Eurasians and Native Christians.

111. The following table compares the different causes of death as shown by the returns for the year under report and the preceding year :—

	1882—83.	1883—84.
Cholera	3 or ·03	2 or ·02 per 1,000
Small-pox	46 „ ·49	125 „ 1·34 do
Fevers	322 „ 3·41	285 „ 3·05 do
Bowel complaints	210 „ 2·25	218 „ 2·33 do
Injuries	17 „ ·18	26 „ ·28 do
All other causes	868 „ 9·28	963 „ 10·29 do

112. The mortality was highest under fevers as usual. There were only 2 sporadic cases of cholera against 3 during the previous year. One occurred in Shule and the other in Poor House Road. Both took place at long intervals. The former was attended by a Native doctor and the information was given to the authorities after death. The latter was attended by the Hospital Assistants of the Bowring Civil Hospital. Fortunately there was no epidemic and it is open to doubt whether the so called sporadic cases were cases of true cholera. There were 125 deaths from small-pox against 46 during the previous year, or a ratio of 1·34 per 1,000 of population against ·49 the previous year. The greatest number of deaths took place in the months of February and March when it prevailed in an epidemic form. It still prevails chiefly among the unvaccinated children. The Municipal Committee paid considerable attention to the subject of vaccination as will be seen from the notice under that head. Two camp hospitals were opened for small-pox patients when the deceased became epidemic, one at the north and the other at the south of the Station. The highest number of deaths from fever was in May and the lowest in December and February. The climate of Bangalore is not particularly malarious and the Residency Surgeon is of opinion that more fatal fevers may generally be attributed to the bad water supply of the Station. The season of the year does not appear to affect the prevalence of fevers here except indirectly in connection with the water supply. The month of August shows the highest rate of deaths from bowel complaints, a fact which may be attributed to the heavy rain-fall during that month.

MEDICAL RELIEF.

113. The Bowring Civil Hospital was, as hitherto, the only institution in the Civil and Military Station at which medical relief was granted to the public gratuitously throughout the year under review. The following table exhibits the total number of persons treated at the Bowring Hospital during the past 5 years, and the number of deaths and percentage of deaths of the most common diseases:—

Diseases.	1879.			1880.			1881.			1882.			1883.

114. The number of admissions from fever is 249 less than last year. Cinchona febrifuge is in the majority of cases prescribed with good results. Quinine by the muth or hypodermically is resorted to in such cases as are considered to require it. Of respiratory affections there were 107 more than in the previous year, 26 of which were from pneumonia and 25 from phthisis, with 16 and 13 deaths respectively. Six of the former and four of the latter died within 24 hours of their admission. The number of admissions from diarrhœa was 162 in excess of the past year, while from dysentery there were 13 less admissions. The subjects of these affections were as a rule brought to the hospital by the Police in a dying state, and consequently the largest percentage of deaths took place under this head. There was an increase of 385 admissions from ulcers, but they were not of so grave or formidable a character as in former years. Debility gave fewer admissions, with a corresponding diminution in the number of deaths. Under these 4 heads the much higher death rates of former years were probably due to the effects left by the famine on the constitution of the patients.

115. Cholera was not epidemic in the Station, but two sporadic cases came under treatment. In one, an imported case, the patient succumbed to the disease the other patient, a resident of the Bangalore Pettah (Town), recovered shortly after admission. Small-pox was prevalent throughout the year: 27 cases were admitted with 5 deaths. Chicken pox and measles gave respectively 8 and 22 admissions, but no deaths occurred. Eruptive fevers prevailed more or less during the year, but the general health of the people was good.

116. There were 50 major operations, and 857 minor operations; 35 fractures of which latter 7 were compound comminuted requiring amputation, and four others compound of a similar class but not needing operative interference. They were succesfully treated on conservative principles.

117. There were 1,622 in-door and 24,733 out-door patients treated during the year against 1,513 and 25,008 in the previous year respectively. Of the former number there were 279 Europeans, and of the latter 3,399.

118. At the close of the year a small dispensary was opened at Alsur for the convenience of the people living in that locality and adjacent villages.

SANITATION.

119. The Municipal Commissioners have devoted considerable attention to the conservancy of the Station, and the number of Sanitary Inspectors and Overseers was increased with the result of better work by the scavengers, and more effectual enforcement of the rules regarding daily cleaning of latrines. Police guards were also placed over the tanks which supply drinking water, in order to prevent their being used for bathing or the washing of clothes, and measures were taken to enforce a better system of sewage drainage and removal of filth, upon the owners of the tanneries which are situated near the Alsur lake.

120. Some new roads in crowded localities, and more street drains of the approved pattern, have been constructed. A considerable advance has in fact been made; and with perseverance, it is to be expected, that the sanitation of the Station will soon be greatly improved.

VACCINATION.

121. The vaccination work among the civil population was entirely done by the Municipal Vaccinators, of whom there are two. On account of the prevalence of small-pox the employment of 2 additional temporary Vaccinators was sanctioned by the Board. Until vaccination becomes general either by being made compulsory or by disappearance of the prejudice still existing against it in some quarters, the present staff will be found sufficient. Compulsory vaccination is however the only effectual means to prevent severe epidemics of small-pox, Calf lymph was obtained from Bombay, and operations with it were successful. Attempts to inoculate calves from small-pox lymph have so far been unsuccessful.

122. The total number vaccinated during the year was 1,722 against 1,333 in 1882—83. The successful cases were 1,250 against 1,061 or 78·17 per cent or a ratio of 14·42 per 1,000 of population. The average number vaccinated by each Vaccinator was 861. Of the above 123 were cases of re-vaccination and 99 of these proved successful.

123. According to age out of the total number of successful cases 754 were under 1 year, 417 over 1 and under 6 years and 79 above 6 years.

124. According to sex there were 846 males and 876 females out of the tota number of cases vaccinated during the year under report.

125. The total cost of the establishment was Rs. 240. The entire cost was borne by the Municipality. The cost of each successful case was 2 annas and 10 pies or one anna less than last year, which was due to the greater number of operations performed by the staff.

VII. INSTRUCTION.

EDUCATION.

126. The public schools in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore aided by the Local Government number, as last year, 66 ; but the attendance of pupils has risen from 3,439 to 3,589, or at the rate of 4·36 per cent. The principal increase is in the roll of Primary Girls' schools and Secondary Boys' schools, and is confined to Natives. Primary Boys' schools are the only ones which show a decrease.

127 The following statement gives the details and classification of the various Institutions —

Grade of Instruction.	Class of Institution.	For Boys.		For Girls.
		No.	Pupils.	No.	Pupils.
University Education ...	Arts, Colleges ...	2	26	...	...
School Education ...	Secondary Schools ...	15	511	8	139
	Primary Schools ...	23	1,768	17	1,054
Special	Institute	1	88	...	...
	Total.....	41	2,396	25	1,193

128. The race or creed of the pupils is thus returned :—1,282 Europeans and Eurasians, 660 Native Christians, 1,164 Hindus, 482 Muhammadans, and 1 Buddhist.

129. The question of schools for European and Eurasian children came prominently under notice during the year, special attention being drawn to the subject by an application for a grant to St. Mark's Grammar School. This was a recently established institution, belonging to the class described as private adventure schools. But, as the Government of India had expressly overruled the objections of the select committee on European schools against giving aid in such cases, it was held to be not on that account disqualified. For an economical administration of the grant-in-aid funds, however, it was felt that some security was needed against an undue multiplication of schools on the one hand, and on the other for the full efficiency of those already in operation.

130. Taking into account the circumstances of Bangalore, which make it a favorite resort of European and Eurasian settlers, and the probability that this class would grow and not decline in numbers, it was resolved, with the two fold object in view above mentioned, to introduce the Revised Code for European schools recently adopted by the Government of India, which bases the grants principally upon results. But in accordance with the provisions of the resolution which accompanied the Code, it will be applied only tentatively for the first two years. The existing grants will thus not be disturbed for the present, but the amounts that would be earned under the new Code will also be recorded at the time of inspection. Managers will thus be enabled to see how the rules will affect their schools. But their opinions as to the applicability of the Code have also been invited, and though none have yet been received, it is believed that meetings have been held of the heads of schools to discuss the matter.

131. Before leaving this subject it may be of interest to give the following statistics obtained in the General Census of 1881 relating to the European and Eurasian population of the Civil and Military Station, as they will serve to convey some idea of its extent and educational needs :—

Age.	Under instruction.		Not under instruction but able to read and write.		Not under instruction and not able to read and write.		Total.
	Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.	Male.	Female.	Both sexes.

132. These figures seem to show that 43 boys and 60 girls, or 103 European and Eurasian children, of school-going age, were growing up without instruction in 1881, and this in spite of the efforts of so many religious denominations and so many schools.

133. Financial Statistics.—The total amount of grants paid was Rs. 28,650. The advance of Rs. 2,159 over the payments of last year is due to the higher grant then sanctioned to St. Joseph's, Baldwin, St. Francis Xavier, and Blackpalli schools continuing through the whole year. But as a set off against this addition of 8·15 per cent to the expenditure by Government, the private expenditure on all schools has risen from Rs. 51,018 to Rs. 56,656 or 11·05 per cent. Of this sum, school fee, contributed Rs. 30,226, or Rs. 3,126 more than last year, an increase of 12·37 per cent; while from other sources were obtained Rs. 26,430 against Rs. 23,918 last year, an increase of Rs. 2,512, or 10·5 per cent.

134. The objects on which the expenditure is distributed will be seen from the following statement :—

135. Taken altogether, the education of each pupil cost Rs. 23—12—3 for the year, of which Rs. 7—15—9 was defrayed from public and Rs. 15—12—6 from private funds. Or otherwise stated, each pupil paid in fees Rs. 8—6—9, receiving aid from Government of Rs. 7—15—9 and from private contributions of Rs. 7—5—9.

136. Of the Government grants, Rs. 24,001 are devoted to English instruction and Rs. 4,649 to the vernaculars. The following statement exhibits the amounts received and expended by the various religious denominations:—

137. Colleges.—Bishop Cotton's, St. Joseph's—Bishop Cotton's sent up 4 candidates for the First Arts examination, of whom 2 passed, in the second class. Two others who succeeded had been students in it for a long time, but left a few months before the examination. Several important changes occurred in the management. The Reverend A. H. Hildesley, M. A., who had been Warden for 2 years, was unexpectedly offered a more lucrative employment at Sanawar and went there on three months' leave. Shortly before this the Reverend H. C. Parker, M. A., had arrived from England to act as an Assistant to the Warden. He was now left in full charge. Eventually Mr. Hildesley resigned. A new committee was then formed, under the Resident and the General Commanding the Division, by whom Mr. Parker was accepted as Warden. It is due to Mr. Hildesley to state that he was very popular and successful in his management of Bishop Cotton's, while the possession of remarkable musical talents enabled him by means of concerts to materially reduce the longstanding debt on the buildings. St. Joseph's has formed a strong staff of 6 priests for the instruction of the college and upper classes. The enlargement of the premises to accommodate increasing numbers is still engaging much attention. The 26 students in the 2 colleges include 9 Europeans and Eurasians, 3 Native Christians, 12 Hindus and 2 Muhammadans.

138. Secondary Schools.—Out of 42 candidates presented from the following schools for Matriculation, 14 passed, all in the second class; namely, from Bishop Cotton's 6, St. Joseph's 4, St. Andrew's 2, Baldwin 1, and St. Mark's 1. Of those from Bishop Cotton's, 2 were girls, as also was the one from Baldwin school, who passed the Higher examination for women as well. In this latter examination 3 took a first class and 5 a second class. They included 2 girls from Bishop Cotton's, 1 from Baldwin, 1 (a teacher) from St. Andrew's and 2 from the Wesleyan school; but 4 of them have still to pass in needle-work.

139. In the Middle School examination 31 boys and 24 girls were successful; but 6 girls secured a first class, which no boys did. The following were the passes:—Boys, St. Joseph's 14, Bishop Cotton's 6, St. Andrew's 3, London Mission 2, St. Mark's 2, St. Mary's 1, St. John's 1, Arcot Narrainswami's 1, private 1; Girls, Convent 9, Bishop Cotton's 8, Wesleyan 4, St. Andrew's 1, St. John's 1, private 1.

140. The only vernacular schools that rise to the secondary stage are the 2 Hindustani Madrasas, one of which is making steady progress; the other has been interrupted by an out-break of small-pox.

141. Primary Schools.—Under this head come the charity schools for European and Eurasian children, such as the orphanage, and most of the vernacular schools, some of which are for girls and others for the children of servants and camp followers. The girls' schools, though elementary, as is necessarily the case, where custom allows the attendance of only mere infants, are reported to be doing well. At the time of inspection 198 pupils in Primary schools passed the Upper Primary standard out of 347 presented, and 242 passed the Lower Primary out of 1,560, results which compare favorably with those of last year.

142. In conclusion, it may be said that the means of instruction held out to all classes in the Station are both ample and varied. The competition of so many schools ensures the putting forth of strenuous efforts alike in aiming at a good standard in the education imparted and in attracting all available pupils from every grade of society. European chaplains, priests and missionaries devoted to the work, exercise a beneficial influence in supervising and directing the work of many of the various agencies. Native committees are not behind hand in emulation and self-sacrifice. That more yet remains to be done is what may always be expected with a population growing by rapid strides, and is rather a stimulus to healthy progress than a subject of reproach.

LITERATURE AND THE PRESS.

143. The number of publications registered was only 35 against 48 the year before. By language, there were 5 works in English, 7 in Kannada, 1 in Tamil, 16 in Hindustani, 1 in Persian, 1 in Arabic, 1 in Sanskrit and Kannada, and 1 in Arabic and Hindustani. The subjects treated of come under the following heads:—Arts 1, Drama 3, Fiction 2, Language 4, Law 2, Medicine 3, Miscellaneous 1, Poetry 1, Politics 1, Philosophy 4, Religion 11, and Science 2.

144. The only works of special, scientific, historical or antiquarian interest were the following:—The second number of the Quarterly Journal of Veterinary Science in India and Army Animal Management; Bija Ganita Sastra, an Algebra in Kannada, the first work of its kind, Jayasimha Raja Charitre, a translation into Kannada of Shakespeare's Cymbeline, Trikanda Sesha, a supplement to the Amara Kosa, composed on the same system as the latter.

145. There are 16 presses, or one more than last year, the new one being a Muhammadan press. These Muhammadan presses, of which there are 7, are almost entirely confined to lithography. The newspapers and other periodical works published at the several presses are as described in last year's report.

IX. MISCELLANEOUS.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

146. The following details have been supplied respecting the operations of the Catholic and Protestant Missions in the Civil and Military Station for the past year.

147. Roman Catholic Mission.—There are four parochial churches in the Civil and Military Station, besides one large chapel attached to the Convent and three small ones attached to other educational institutions. In connection with the Cathedral at Shule, a library and recreation room are maintained for the use of Roman Catholic soldiers who are members of the Temperance Society. The number of Roman Catholics in the Station, including 2,162 Europeans and East Indians amounts to 11,077 souls.

148. Sixteen European Missionaries and two Native Priests are employed in connection with the mission either for parochial or educational purposes. They are all subject to the Bishop, Vicar Apostolic of Mysore and Coorg, whose head-quarters are at Bangalore.

149. The Station contains an Ecclesiastical Seminary besides the College of St. Joseph, where also boarders are taken, and which has a staff of 6 Priests and 13 Lay Teachers and Munshis for the education of 367 scholars of all denominations with a daily attendance 321, 18 of whom compose the senior and junior F. A. classes. Attached to St. Francis Xavier's Church is an aided English school for European girls who number 50 and are under the instruction of two Mistresses. In addition to this school there are 2 Tamil schools for boys and one for girls the pupils of which number 60 and 40 respectively maintained by the Parish without any Government aid. The Middle School of St. Patrick's in Shule, kept up chiefly for the education of the Central Orphanage, is attended by about 123 Eurasian lads. The Anglo-Vernacular School of Blackpalli has 175 boys and 50 girls on its rolls who are instructed by 13 Teachers; the Natives being very much attracted to it on account of the successful teaching of the Christian Brothers. The Blackpalli Parish keeps also an orphan asylum for boys who number 22.

150. The number of orphanages under the management of the mission is six, three for Europeans and three for Natives. There are in the former, i. e., European orphanages, 140 orphans in addition to twenty-four military children, and in the latter, i. e., Native orphanages, 262 orphans. The total number of orphans thus looked after is 402. Fourteen "famine" girls were married during the year.

151. The Catholic Press on St. Johns' Hill executes all the printing of the Mysore Mission. It also undertakes work for the public both in English and in Canarese.

152. The Sisters of charity at the Bowring Hospital have continued their work of day and night devotedness to the satisfaction of the superiors and have won the respect and affection of all their patients. The Sisters have opened at their own residence a refuge for infant foundlings.

153. In connection with the Catholic Mission in Bangalore there is a large institution known as the Convent of the Good Shepherd conducted by a Lady Superior assisted by twenty-four nuns. There are ten distinct classes or departments in this establishment, which are briefly particularized below :—

A Boarding and Day School for girls.—This school numbers about 60 children who are taught up to the Matriculation Standard in addition to music, drawing, &c.

An Orphanage for Eurasian children.—The inmates, including the children of deceased soldiers, vary in number from 60 to 70. The girls remain in the orphanage till provided with situations as teachers, ladies maids or companions, &c. The education imparted is the same as in the Boarding school.

An Orphanage for Eurasian children.—With from 40 to 50 inmates.

An Orphanage for Native children.—In this orphanage there are 160 children, many of whom are "Famine Orphans" and for whose support a small capitation allowance is made by the Mysore Government. Nineteen girls of this class were married during the past year.

A Reformatory for Native women and girls.—Containing about 80 inmates.

A "Home" for destitute European and Eurasian women.—The inmates vary in number from 30 to 40 and are occupied in needlework, &c.

A Magdalen class.—This class forms a separate religious community. There are eleven inmates who are employed in plain and fancy needlework, &c.

An Infant Asylum.—This department was only opened during the past year. There are at present twelve foundlings in the asylum varying in ages from 1 month to 6 years.

A Free School.—This school is attended by children of the poorest classes. Each child is provided with one meal a day and two suits of clothes annually. The attendance is irregular, varying daily from 40 to 20.

The Native Sisters of St. Ann.—This class consists of about 20 who are employed as teachers in the vernaculars and in knitting and fancy work which is disposed of for the benefit of the Convent.

154. Wesleyan Mission.—In the Civil and Military Station the Wesleyan Mission has two branches of work, English and Tamil.

155. There are two English chapels, one adjoining the Parade and the other on St. John's Hill, with a Minister attached to each. The members of the two congregations number about 600 and the communicants 131. In connection with the Parade chapel there is an English Girls' school which teaches up to the middle standard and contains 61 girls. A Girls' school has also been recently opened on St. John's Hill and has 31 pupils. There is also a poor school in Shule with 23 children. In the Sunday schools connected with the two chapels there are 164 scholars.

156. The Tamil work is under the superintendence of a European Missionary assisted by a Native Minister and a Catechist. The Christian congregation numbers about 300, of whom 132 are communicants. Several school-room services for Hindus are held every week. At Motucheri at Shule, and in the bazaar there are Anglo-Tamil Boys' schools containing 302 scholars, and in the Gun-Troop, Cavalry lines and Knox pettah there are Tamil schools with 160 boys. A Boarding school containing 45 girls is carried on in the mission compound, and at Alsur, Shule, and the Broadway there are four Girls' Day schools in which there are 286 pupils. Including 11 Sunday scholars who do not attend any Day school, there are altogether under instruction in the Tamil station 473 boys and 331 girls, an increase of 33 on last year.

157. The Harvest Field, an English monthly periodical devoted to missionary topics, is published by the mission in Bangalore.

158. London Missionary Society.—In connection with the London Missionary Society there are 4 European Missionaries, 5 Native Ministers, 5 Catechists, and 49 School Teachers, of whom 6 are females. The operations of the society are chiefly in the Bangalore Péttah, and the districts to the east, where it has 6 outstations. The number of Native Christians connected, with the mission is 436. Under its care are two orphanages, containing 9 boys and 20 girls; also 14 schools with 1,106 scholars; of whom 403 are girls. One of these is a High School, from which 21 passed the Matriculation standard of the Madras University at its last examination. The education in the other schools is to the middle and primary standards. The preparation and circulation of school books and vernacular Christian literature has received much attention. The circulation last year amounted to 195,211 chiefly by sale.

159. Of the above work, the portion carried on in the Civil and Military Station is as follows:—One Tamil congregation of 138 members, two Anglo-vernacular Boys' schools, with 226 scholars; and the preparation and circulation of school books, and Native Christian literature.
